Hail to Lamar . . . Alma Mater dear . . . Sing her joyful praise . . . Sound it far and near . . . Rally around her banner . . . We will never fail . . . So to Lamar, Alma Mater . . . Sing hail . . . hail . . . hail! The words of our school song echo a sentiment shared by every Lamarite: an intense loyalty to his school and a justifiable pride in its many and varied accomplishments. We are proud of our beautiful building with its landscaped grounds, of our excellent faculty, of our co-operative student body; but beyond these, we glory in the reputation Lamar has gained abroad for high scholastic achievement and for outstanding success in developing the characters of its students to a level of perceptiveness and individuality.

These years at Lamar will be among the most memorable in our lives. The warm fellowship of our friends, the kindly guidance of our teachers, the good times we have had, and the knowledge and experience we have acquired have made an impression on us that will not dim with the passing of time. Here, then, is a record of 1952, which will be welcomed and cherished by those who wish to look back on this part of their high school career. It may be regarded as the recipe for Lamar's success—the formula that results, year after year, in a group of students who are able to take their place in the world. Perhaps for this reason it may be called a Kitchen-tested recipe, conceived by the great Chef.

MR. W. J. MOYES, Principal

TO THE SPONSORS AND STAFF of the Orenda we are indebted for another beautiful book fully up to the standard set by its predecessors. Here you will find the pictured story of the fifteenth year of Lamar. We hope that you will thoroughly enjoy your annual now and that in the years to come you will cherish it as a memento of the happiest days of your lives.

MR. J. O. WEBB
Assistant Superintendent

Even the finest recipes are of little value unless they are in the hands of skillful cooks. Lamar is very fortunate to be under the leadership of such a capable group of administrators. Mr. Moreland, Mr. Jeppesen, Mr. Wright, Mr. Webb, and all the members of the Board of Education give generously of their time and interest in order that the Houston Public School System may continue to function in its usual efficient manner. Our own faculty, headed by Mr. Moyes and Mr. Madden, provides us with the best supervision in the city. Under their direction, Lamar's Recipe for Success is mixed into a dish to please the most discriminating of epicures. And here we pause for just a moment to pay tribute to those who are continually cooking up something special for Lamar.

OFFICE

MRS. RUTH LEAVELL, Dean

Here are the "dieticians" that supervise the planning and the records of Lamar's scholastic diet. They are the ones who see to it that everything functions smoothly around the school, from the checking of absence slips to the collecting of senior dues. Almost everyone has signed in or out of Mrs. Leavell's office at one time or another, and has availed himself of the capable help she is always ready and willing to give. Mrs. Harrell and Mrs. Kobs are a busy pair, with their endless duties of balancing money transfers, carrying on school correspondence, and keeping many essential records. Mrs. Ferrell knows all about college entrance applications, class standings, and the like; while Mrs. Hennes supervises four-year plans and scholarships. How could Lamar's recipe be successfully made without them?

MATHEMATICS DEPARTMENT

$$X = \frac{-b \pm \sqrt{b^2 - 4ac}}{2a} \dots A = \frac{S^2 \sqrt{3}}{4} \dots$$

The square on the hypotenuse is equal to the sum of the squares on the other two legs. Formulas and equations are old friends to Lamar's mathematics students. Under the capable instructions of an excellent teaching staff, the budding mathematician is offered a year of algebra, a year of plane geometry, and a semester each of solid geometry and of trigonometry, as well as several valuable courses in commercial arithmetic. In every subject, the curriculum is enlivened by the practical application of mathematics to everyday life, and by graphical illustrations of cause and effect. Consequently, a greater interest in the exact sciences is aroused, even among those for whom the mysteries of Euclid hold no pleasure. It is the hope and aim of the mathematics department to develop the power of reasoning in each and every student.

Robin Isaacs carefully perfects his proof of a geometric theorem with the aid of Gayle Cutshall and Helen Lehmann.

Mrs. Sanders displays different types of geometric figures to Graeme Baker, Virginia Hopkins, and other members of the class.

ENGLISH DEPARTMENT

"Friends, Romans, Countrymen! Lend me your ears!". . . "Ay, tear her battered ensign down. Long has it waved on high" . . . "Whan that Aprille with his shoures soote". . . .Lamar. English students receive a well-rounded education in literature and grammar. In addition to a good foundation in the fundamentals, composition and original thought are heavily stressed points of the English course. In the fine literature section, the student is introduced to a long list of great authors, from Chaucer to Lord Byron to Robert Frost. In both halves of the course, an attempt is made to bring out the individual personality of the student through the medium of speech and writing.

Ben Orman, a member of the sophomore class, entertains Delores Anderson, Dan Bryan, and other classmates with records of Julius Caesar from the library.

English literature students, Barbara Etchison, Rip Hitson, Lee Coleman, Harry Thomas, and Marianne Dittman get a first-hand view of a Shakespearean theater.

Sydney Billingsley and Betty Templeton, outstanding members of the speech department, proudly show their sponsor, M. Dougherty, their newest trophies.

SCIENCE DEPARTMENT

The specific gravity of an object is equal to the weight of the object divided by the weight of an equal volume of water $\text{Na}_2\text{CO}_3 + 2\text{HCl} \rightarrow 2\text{NaCl} + \text{H}_2\text{O} + \text{CO}_2$ The angiosperms are divided into two groups: monocotyledons and dicotyledons. . . . Who knows but that Lamar may be training some future Pasteur or Curie? In their classes of physics, chemistry, biology, and physiology, students learn the laws of nature, the science of movement, the structure of the body, and the divisions of animal life. The science courses are among the most popular in the school, and there are few students who do not avail themselves of the opportunity to learn "what makes things tick."

"It's not as complicated as it looks," says Mr. Gentry to Pat Staats and Larry Schmucker about the cathode-ray oscilloscope.

Budding young chemists, Norman Hall, Roderick Molinaire, and Sandy Settegast eagerly observe the chemical neutralization of a base and an acid.

Biology labs give Mary Ruth Sandel and John Ensle an opportunity to learn a little more from the charts and specimens.

HISTORY DEPARTMENT

Helen Weinberg

We the people of the United States, in order to form a more perfect Union. . . Courses in American history and government are certainly among the most necessary that any school can offer. In their junior year, Lamar students delve into the fascinating story of how their country came into being; and, as seniors, learn the intricacies of its government. Especially interesting to almost everyone is the course in social problems, which helps the student to make the transition from high school to the outside world.

Barbara Bobbitt, Prentis Crowe, Lou Hardy, and Steve Sims add interest to the civics class with their panel discussion on national elections.

LANGUAGE DEPARTMENT

Getting a close look at some pieces of handiwork from Mexico are Sue Hochmuth, Ida Pearle Oberg, Sue Smith and Alton McKinney.

Sarah Earle, Elanor Huddleston, Julia Pleasants, Margaret Young. Not in picture: Ann Brumby, Nell Morris, Cora Penn.

MUSIC DEPARTMENT

The Tiger Rag . . . Trees . . . The World Is Waiting For The Sunrise . . . Lamar is famous for the wonderful music from its R.O.T.C. Band, its orchestra, and its various choral organizations, which are asked frequently to perform for many different programs all over the city. A musically inclined student has his choice of four distinct choruses which he may join, including a boys' chorus, a mixed chorus, and two girls' choruses. Much emphasis is placed on individual talent as well, and on assuring students' enjoyment of music.

BOYS' PHYSICAL EDUCATION

George Hartung

Donald Longcope

Robert Schulze

Murray Finer and Donald Stewart watch as the seniors perfect their basketball skills.

Come on, pass me the ball! OK, boys, let's take a few laps! Look out, he's trying to steal third! Boys at Lamar are offered outstanding opportunities to develop themselves physically as well as mentally. Under the guidance of such able coaches as Mr. Pepper, Mr. Schulze, Mr. Longcope, and Mr. Hartung, a wide variety of sports are enjoyed by all participants, irrespective of ability. Football is, of course, the first love of almost all boys, and they are given extensive instruction in the fundamentals of the game as well as ample time to put them in practice. Spring means baseball season, and the annual polishing of the diamond. Track is very popular at Lamar, and the would-be cinder-star is taught thoroughly the art of running. The old hoop holds a fascination for many, especially since Lamar has such excellent basketball courts. Many boys elect to take swimming, always a favorite sport. Tennis and volleyball, too, are part of the athletic program. In every activity, good sportsmanship and clean playing are stressed, and physical fitness in everyday living.

After checking the roll this sophomore class will be ready for a quick basketball game.

Doing push-ups as part of their gym test are Larry Schmucker, Murray Finer and Art Cramer.

GIRLS' PHYSICAL EDUCATION

May Bourgeois

Helen Dvoracek

Marjorie Long

Frances Rockwell

Hey, look! I got a bulls-eye! . . . We win, two sets straight! . . . Let's go, there—make a basket! Lamar girls are offered an athletic program equalled at few schools and surpassed at none. Almost every known sport is presented, as well as valuable training in First Aid and Home Nursing. Girls participate in many team sports, such as basketball, volley ball, and softball. Then too, there are varied individual sports, such as badminton, tennis, archery, swimming, and the like. Grace and good posture are also developed in the modern dancing course, a unique study of rhythm and movement. Sophomore girls, in addition to their sports schedule, are taught Health and Hygiene; Junior girls, upon completion of the First Aid course, are certified by the National Red Cross. Probably one of the most useful and practical studies taken by a girl during high school is the course in Home Nursing, taught by a graduate nurse, and Senior girls who have it agree that it is not only interesting but applicable. All of these courses and sports are directed toward the aim of cooperation and good sportsmanship.

Gym leader Bebe Godley shows the class the way to win that next tennis match.

"Another bull's-eye for Allie Kelley," says Judy Sanders.

Toni Day, Joann Hall, Bebe Moody, and other members of the sophomore gym class get ready for another exciting basketball game.

STUDENT COUNCIL

Discussing a new project with Mr. Moyes and Mrs. Porter are Lou Hardy, Vice-President; Kirby Attwell, Treasurer; Carolyn Turner, President; and Sally Stedman, Secretary.

The Student Council is the student governing body of Lamar. As such, it performs many important and varied functions. Collection of Book Week contributions are under its supervision; promotion and sales of the Student Directory and subscriptions to the Orenda are directed by its busy, capable members. This year, another worthwhile campaign was undertaken: the School Spirit Contest before the Baytown football game. The week preceding the Regional Playoffs saw each homeroom gaily decorated with patriotic slogans, crepe paper of red and blue, and in some cases, clever stuffed figures of "cooked geese" and other appropriate effigies. Urged on by the Student Council Representative in his homeroom, everyone worked hard to win the prize given to the best-decorated room, the football used in the game. Another important service rendered by the Council is the approving of charters for new clubs. All elections carried on in the school are also supervised by the Student Council. Much of the important work of the Council is done through committees. There are three main committees, namely, the Charter Committee, whose chairman is Nancy Howdeshell and whose duty is to approve charters; The Election Committee, which is led by Lou Hardy and which conducts the elections; and the Constitution Committee, headed by Ann Spears, which revises club constitutions. Another outstanding auxiliary of the Student Council is the Advisory Council, composed of members of the faculty and student body, which acts as a "middle man" between the faculty and the Student Council. Members include Mrs. Sandel, Mrs. Porter, Miss Staggs, Miss Robb, Miss Weinberg, Miss Fuller, Miss Knolle, Mr. Kent, Mr. Carr, Mrs. Goodrich, the Student Council officers, Kathleen Kimbro, Tim Stevens, Helen Lehmann, Celia Buchan, Betty Perry, Polly Benoit, and Betty Claire Mayo. The Student Council is headed this year by Carolyn Turner, President; Lou Hardy, Vice-President; Sally Stedman, Secretary; and Kirby Attwell, Treasurer. Mrs. Porter is the sponsor.

With the aid of Robert's Rules of Order, Celia Buchan, Betty Bowlin, and Kirby Attwell pass on an amendment to a constitution.

Jean Hampy, Lee Coleman, Barbara Etchison, and Nancy Howdeshell approve the charter of a new club.

It's a close race, but Charlene Laas, Betty Perry, and Lou Hardy count the votes and determine the winner.

ARROWHEAD

Arrowhead officers plan the annual banquet at the College Inn: standing, Mary Petersen, Attendance Clerk; Donald Stewart, President; Ann Meck, Vice-President; sitting, Marianne Dittman, Treasurer; Pat Staats, Secretary.

Membership in Arrowhead, the Senior Honor Society of Lamar, is the highest goal toward which any student can aim. Only boys and girls who are very outstanding in scholarship, leadership, loyalty, and willingness to serve Lamar are considered eligible. To become a member, one must have 4.6 scholastic average, and must have accumulated a number of honor points, awarded in a system similar to that of the National Honor Society; also, one must be recognized as an active supporter of and valuable asset to his school. Arrowhead offers for sale such useful items as book covers, pencils, and manila folders, which have helped many a student out of a tight spot at the last minute. Each Year at graduation, the Arrowhead Award, a beautiful silver cup, is presented to the member of Arrowhead voted the most valuable—always a difficult choice to make. Jane Lawhon was last year's winner. In Arrowhead, Lamar has a unique organization unequalled in any other high school—one to which it is a signal honor to belong, and one which performs many useful services for its alma mater.

Officers of Arrowhead for this year are as follows: President, Donald Stewart; Vice-President, Ann Kathryn Meck; Secretary, Pat Staats; Treasurer, Marianne Dittman; and Attendance Clerk, Mary Petersen.

Row III: Cheryll Madison, Ann Kathryn Meck, Norma Miller, Mary Petersen, Ellene Reindl, Helen Riddick, Mary Robb, Judy Robey, Stanley Silvas.

NATIONAL HONOR SOCIETY

The purpose of the National Honor Society is to encourage high standards of scholarship, leadership, and service, among students. Membership is limited to not more than five percent of high juniors, low seniors, and high seniors, and election is on a basis of scholarship and the number of honor points accumulated. Scholastically, students must have a general average of 4.2 on full credit subjects taken in senior high school; conduct eligibility allows two "G's," providing that the other grades are "E's." During his high school career, a student is given ample opportunity to earn service points. Working in the office, on the library staff, or as a laboratory assistant to one of the teachers are ways in which one may earn points by devoting a period each day. Almost every elected office carries a number of points with it, also. At certain times there are other opportunities, such as selling poppies on Armistice Day or ushering at school programs. Every student should strive to maintain a high scholastic average and accumulate enough points for membership. Officers of The W. J. Moyes Chapter of National Honor Society are as follows: President, Steve Childress; Vice-President, Harry Thomas; Secretary, Ann Wise; and Treasurer, Betty Templeton.

Keeping the books in good order are the officers: standing, Ann Wise, Secretary; Betty Templeton, Treasurer; sitting, Harry Thomas, Vice-President; Steve Childress, President.

THE COACHES

A good indication of a coach's ability is the performance of his teams. It would be hard to find a more outstanding, sportsmanlike record than that made by Lamar's athletes, coached by Bob Schulze, Head Football Coach, a Rice institute graduate; George Hartung, Southwest Texas State Teachers College graduate, Head Track Coach and Assistant Football Coach; Don Longcope, our beloved "Unca' Donald," University of Houston graduate and Head Basketball Coach; and Fred Pepper, Rice graduate, Head Baseball Coach and Assistant Football Coach.

THE CHEERLEADERS

Give the locomotive and give it slow! Six good reasons why Lamar's student body is the rip-snortin'est, out-yellin'est, team-supportin'est in town are Cheerleaders Lou Hardy, Ronnie Tynes, Jane Ryba, Gus Brann, Margie Laughlin, and Head Cheerleader Larry Schmucker. Alternates are Sheryl McKelvy and Norman Brady.

FOOTBALL

This year, the Big Red has established a record that will be hard to surpass. Scoring 280 points to their opponents' 74, the Redskins of 1951 can boast the first undefeated season in Lamar's history. Although they faced one of the toughest schedules ever experienced by a Lamar team, the Redskins won all four pre-season games and their six district games. They were stopped only in the bi-district play-offs by a narrow margin of 2 penetrations in a 7-7 tie with Baytown, a team they had defeated 13-6 earlier in the season. Good line and downfield blocking, hard tackling, tricky ball handling, and all round excellent teamwork—all the result of brilliant coaching—were the keys to the successful season.

The "B" Team, or "Junior Varsity", coached by Mr. Pepper, also had a very successful season, losing the City Crown to Reagan by 2 points.

Due to the large number of boys in uniform, the regular staff of coaches was ably assisted by Mr. Gochenour and Mr. Millsap.

The team of 1951 was a real tribute to the coaches and the school.

A GOOD START IN BAYTOWN

On a muddy field in Gander land, the Redskins met their first foe—and showed mid-season form in defeating Lee of Baytown 13-6. Ignoring the condition of the field, the Big Red went through, over, and around their opponents for a well-deserved victory over a team which later went to the state finals in class AAAA football.

WE TAME THE MUSTANGS

The contest with Thomas Jefferson of San Antonio proved a tough one, but true to form the Lamar team came out on top, 14-7. The game was marked with vicious line play that will long be remembered by the spectators in the Alamo City. The Mustang backfield was clever, but not clever enough to outwit the alert Lamar defenders.

THE YELLOWJACKETS LOSE THEIR STING

In a defensive battle to end all defensive battles, Lamar overcame the Port Arthur Yellowjackets 2-0. Before the game Port Arthur was ranked as the number one high school team in the state. The margin of victory proved to be John Montgomery's block of a punt in the Yellowjacket end zone. All-state guard Tom Siragusa was one of the many outstanding Lamar players.

BROWNSVILLE IS NO. 4

Showing the spark that had brought them to the attention of every high school team in the state, the Indians outplayed and outscored the Brownsville team 40-13 before a demonstrative crowd in the border city. The Redskins scored freely and frequently, and used their reserve strength to good advantage. The standout was a ninety yard touchdown punt return by Byrnes.

A BEARHIDE FOR THE TROPHY CASE

After a close first half, the Redskins loosed their superior power on the San Jacinto Golden Bears and came away with a sweet 33-7 victory. The Redskins took advantage of almost every scoring opportunity, and the Lamar line held San Jac for only short gains. Laguarta, Verheyden, and Cutbirth scored for Lamar.

THE TIGERS FEEL OUR STRENGTH

Using every player on the bench, the Redskins rolled over Sam Houston 41-0. Lamar gained 305 yards to the Tigers' 110. The scoring was evenly distributed with touchdowns by Lange, Laguarta, Harrison, Byrnes, Anderson, and Verheyden, who was the top ground gainer with 135 yards in ten tries. Laguarta kicked five out of six extra points for Lamar.

THE PANTHERS LOSE THEIR FIRE

Reminding one of a broom sweeping clean, the Redskins cut down the Panthers to go for long gains. A tricky hand-off, Laguarda to Verheyden to Byrnes, resulted in a 56 yard run for the first score. Lamar's power and reserves showed to advantage as 40 Redskins wore out the Davis team 40-7.

LAMAR 13—REAGAN 7

Avenging last year's defeat, Lamar staved off a late Reagan drive to win a very satisfying victory. A stout defense paid off, and superb blocking enabled Byrnes to return a punt 44 yards, from which point Verheyden passed to Rogers for the first score. Byrnes also returned a Reagan punt for 77 yards and the second marker.

WE CORRAL THE PONIES

In the game that cinched the District title for Lamar, we defeated the Austin Ponies 34-13. Completing eight out of nine attempted passes, the 'Skins showed the best aerial effort of the season. Laguarda, Rogers, Cutbirth, and Byrnes accounted for the scoring. Teas and Cox were outstanding in the line.

REDSKINS HAVE BUFFALO HUNT

In the final District game of the season, Lamar overwhelmed the Milby Redskins 43-7. The scoring was again evenly divided, the highlight being McFarland's 85 yard touchdown punt return, made behind precision blocking. Lange, Harrison, and Rayburn were outstanding in their line play.

LAMAR 7—BAYTOWN 7

The Big Red was knocked out of the running for the Class AAAA State football championship after battling the Ganders to a 7-7 deadlock, losing on penetrations 4-2. The teams were as evenly matched as two teams can be, and it was anybody's game until the final gun sounded. Siragusa, Lange, Rogers, Rayburn, Davis, and Montgomery were outstanding among the stellar defenders of the undefeated record.

BASKETBALL

The Lamar cagers of 1952 had one of the finest seasons in the history of the school. They made their strength known early in the season by winning the Nacogdoches Tournament, the Corpus Christi Tournament, and the Houston Junior Chamber of Commerce Tournament.

The first round of the city race moved swiftly for the undefeated Redskins. The loss at mid-term, however, of John Stieneker, Sonny Wallace, and All-State Philip Kidd indicated a harder second round for the well-coached team of Don Longcope.

The Redskins' winning streak was broken at twenty-two games by Milby in the second round. Competition stiffened even more after mid-term, and the Big Red won only two of their second round games.

When the final standings for the city race were posted, Lamar held a second place tie with San Jacinto. The Redskins had eight wins and seven losses in city competition.

The fast break tactics and the "firewagon" style of play—so long a mark of Longcope-coached teams—were very much in evidence throughout the season.

Philip Kidd, John Stieneker, Ed Rayburn, Ronnie Tynes, Steve Sims, Paul Hamilton, Sonny Cutbirth, Howard Camp—all were outstanding, and the entire squad worked together to make the 1952 Lamar basketball team one that will long be remembered for its hard play and good sportsmanship.

The "B" team, ably coached by J. B. Millsap, had a perfect season, winning all of their games and showed bright promise for the future of Lamar teams.

TRACK

City and regional track champs were the titles gained by George Hartung's 1951 track team. His well rounded squad gained wide recognition through their victories.

The city and regional meets were monopolized by the Redskin runners and field event men. Larry Graham placed in five events in the city meet: the high hurdles, shot put, broad jump, 220 yard dash, and was anchor man on the winning sprint relay team. Henry Dickson was a consistent point-getter, winning first place in every meet in the high jump until he injured his back just before the state finals. The sprint relay team of Tom Biggs, Tom McGarrah, Ben Carrol, and Larry Graham was a regular winner, as were Sonny Cutbirth, David Dale, Jack Verheyden and Steve Sims.

With returning lettermen Henry Dickson, Sonny Cutbirth, Jack Verheyden, Selby Sullivan, Steve Sims, Bob Whilden, and Roy Cummins, plus some new squadmen, 1952 promises a good season for Coach Hartung's cinder squad.

SWIMMING

The Redskin swimmers of 1951 followed the example of previous teams by winning both the city and state championships. Led by Charlton Hadden, Dave McComb, Dave Fennekohl, Warner Merritt, Bill Wilde, and Larry Schmucker, the 1951 team made one of the finest records in Lamar's history. They won every meet in which they participated, and broke all scoring records in both the city and state meets.

Nine lettermen are returning from last year's squad. They are: Dave McComb, Dave Fennekohl, Warner Merritt, Charlie Leyendecker, Reece Anderson, Richard Sinderson, George Lewis, Carlton Wilde, and Larry Schmucker. These veterans and the numerous other boys, with the able coaching of Mr. Ned Gochenour, are reason enough for looking forward to another successful season.

BASEBALL • TENNIS • GOLF

The Lamar baseball team is looking forward to a more successful season than that of last year's sixth place club. This aspiration may become a reality for Coach Fred Pepper's squad with veterans McFarland, Lovett, Vlahopoulos, Anderson, Brenner, and Durkee, plus a number of promising newcomers.

Lamar will again be well represented in tennis by Neal Blanton, Abbe Ledbetter, Karl Kamrath, and Ronnie Holsinger. In 1951 Blanton and Ledbetter captured the city doubles crown, while Kamrath reached the finals in singles.

Redskin golfers in 1951 won the city championship, and were runners-up in the state meet. The foursome for 1952 is well experienced with John Garrett, Kirby Attwell, John Vennard, and Leroy Davis.

CHEROKEE

Lamar is extremely fortunate to have a unique organization in the realm of girls' sports—the Cherokee Club. Upon entering the school a girl automatically becomes a member of Cherokee; it is entirely up to the individual whether or not she avails herself of the wonderful opportunities which it offers. Lamar received special commendation from the evaluation committee last year for the after-school sports program conducted by Cherokee; this is an opportunity provided by very few, if any, other schools in the state. Cherokee's aim is to have every girl in Lamar participate in at least one sport, and with the long list of activities offered, there should be at least one to appeal to any taste. Archery, golf, badminton, riflery, tennis, swimming, softball, volleyball, and basketball, comprise the agenda of sports played throughout the year. Points are given for participation in the various tournaments, with extra points for the winners. At the end of the spring term, several awards are made for those accumulating the greatest number of points. The highest award is the Three-year Bracelet, presented to the girl who has earned the most points for three years; there is also a one-year award for the girl with the most points for the current year. Any girl who enters and plays in at least five tournaments is entitled to wear the Cherokee Rose, the active membership award. Felt letters are also given to each girl on the winning team in every tournament. Cherokee offers all girls an opportunity for fun, friends, and exercise. Heading the club this year are Teddy Moody, President; Sandra Settegast, Vice-president; and Binnie Binford, Secretary.

Seated below are the sports heads: Betty Beaird, Archery; Margie Laughlin, basketball; Holly Montgomery, golf; Peggy Ellington, riflery; Jane Zimmer, tennis.

Sandra Settegast, Vice-president; Bennie Binford, Secretary.

Not by any means do the boys hold a corner on athletics at Lamar. The facilities for girls' sports are as complete as one could wish for: a large, airy gym, spacious tennis courts, an archery range, an indoor swimming pool—everything essential to the development of strong, healthy bodies and to the fullest enjoyment of recreation. During the year, a well-rounded program is presented, including many different individual and team sports. On a crisp fall day the archery range resounds with the twang of the bow and the dull thud of the well-aimed arrow; cooler weather finds classes in the gym, and the excitement of basketball, and badminton. Spring turns the fancy to baseball, and fills the diamonds with female counterparts of Joe Dimaggio. All year long there are merry splashes in the swimming pool, and the tennis courts are never idle when the weather is favorable. Volleyball is ever popular, and riflery has many enthusiasts, winter, spring or fall. Lamar can be justly proud of its modern dance classes, which teach the girls grace and poise; here the supple limb and the rhythmic movement are emphasized, and combined with originality and energy, not into mere exercises but into lovely patterns in motion. Recently added to the long list of activities is golf, a sport which, along with bowling, appeals to many girls enough to warrant the extra time required to participate in it. A sports program is as good as its directors; Lamar's success in the field of girls' athletics is due in a large part to the capable leadership of its excellent staff of teachers, Mrs. May Bourgeois, Miss Helen Dvoracek, Mrs. Frances Rockwell, Miss Helen Long, and Mrs. Kitty Lowry.

CITY SQUADS

The great American tradition is the chance to compete. Lamar girls have the opportunity to perfect themselves in many different fields of athletics, hence, they naturally feel the desire to match their skill with that of other girls, from other schools as well as their own. Therefore, Lamar's best in various sports compose her city teams, and bring her many honors and a great deal of favorable recognition. This year, as in past years, the squads have made a very impressive record. The city volleyball team, coached by Miss Helen Dvoracek, won first place in the city, after a very thrilling season. The city archery team, coached by Mrs. Frances Rockwell, also placed first in city competition. The girls' bowling team rolled a very creditable score, as they usually do. Other high schools in the city have reason to know that Lamar consistently has an outstanding swimming team, for they are always a title threat and have placed first many times. Equally renowned are Lamar's tennis teams, with their individual stars. Indeed, all the girls' teams compare with the boys' in zeal and progress.

Practicing for the city tournament are members of the archery team: Carol Whitehurst, Harriet Davis, Betty Beaird.

W. J. MOYES
PRINCIPAL

At the beginning of the school year the Orenda staff asked Mr. Harry Conover to judge the pictures submitted for the beauty section of the Orenda. In January approximately one hundred and seventy girls entered their pictures, and a group of faculty members and selected students chose from them thirty-five pictures to be sent to Mr. Conover. From these pictures Mr. Conover chose:

Claire Fontaine	Marion Dickson
Jean Youngblood	Linda Regester
Bobby Jean Ray	Marilyn Hill
	Patricia Pennington

Doris Johnson
Betty Jo Schroeter
Mary Ruth Sandel

Mr. Conover asked us to mention that, as all of the girls were so lovely, he wished he could have chosen at least twenty. We sincerely hope his choices will please you, the student body, and we wish to thank both Mr. Conover and the girls who submitted their pictures.

Helen Riddick, Editor

Everybody knows that even the best recipe is virtually worthless unless it is put down clearly and preserved for the use of future generations. The job of recording Lamar's Recipe for Success falls to the members of the Orenda Staff, who check it, test it, and finally, transcribe it. Any day at sixth period you may find the pot boiling merrily as the busy bunch of chefs, under the capable supervision of Head Cook Helen, tackle the task of incorporating the recipe into book form. "Hmmm . . . I think we need a dash more wit in the sports section . . . Are you sure you stirred up the club section well before you added the officers? . . . This written material doesn't have much flavor . . . Hand me the spoon, er, that is, the ruler, so I can finish mounting these pictures . . . I've been slaving away all day over a hot typewriter . . ."

Dan Stultz wields a mean paste brush as Allie Kelley and Stanley Silvus complete a mounting.

Joan Smith, Business Manager

It takes both perseverance and know-how to turn out a good recipe book. And of course, there are those who have read many Recipe Books to sample the final product—the Sponsors, Miss Drew Black Staggs and Miss Helen Weinberg.

LAMAR LIBRARY

At Yuletide the library sparkles with festive decorations—the Y-Teen Christmas tree, the bright holly, and the tinkling bells.

MRS. EDITH COX

You will notice that whenever Mr. Moyes wants to impress a visitor with the fine facilities that Lamar has, he almost always shows him the library first. This is because Lamar has one of the finest and best equipped of the libraries in the Public School System. Over ten thousand volumes of fiction and non-fiction works are available to the student, including several valuable special collections and many other aids, such as the record player, with its large supply of albums—Julius Caesar, MacBeth, and others equally valuable, and the vertical file, with its pamphlets and clippings on a wide variety of subjects. Especially noteworthy is the Fenwick White Collection, given in memory of David Fenwick White, a former Lamar student, which contains many rare volumes. The library also has a large selection of current periodicals, ranging from the athletic journals to world news reviews. The student often finds in the bound magazine collection material which is lacking in other source books. Several sets of Encyclopedias and reference books provide adequate research facilities for students and teachers alike. When writing a theme, delving farther into history, looking for a biography for English class, or just wanting something good to read, the student should go to the Lamar Library, for in it are to be found books that will answer all these needs. Here the peaceful quietness is conducive to study, and the necessary material is close at hand.

The library would not be the orderly place that it is without the capable supervision of its two librarians, Mrs. Edith Cox and Mrs. Mabel Orman, assisted by an able staff of student workers. They are always ready to help you locate a book, hunt up an obscure quotation, or advise you in any way possible. During Book Week, the library conducts a fund drive in order to obtain money to purchase new books. Contributions are solicited in the homerooms, and students and teachers, realizing the worth of the undertaking, both to themselves and to the school, have always given generously, enabling the library to acquire some very valuable volumes.

The long shelves of books are not the only thing to be seen in the library by any means. Throughout the year there are numerous interesting displays to be found. An exhibit of counterfeit money, one of dolls dressed in the costumes of the different nations, a literary map, and a set of figurines representing characters from Chaucer's Canterbury Tales, which were made by Lamar's art students, were shown at various times. At Christmas the colorful pinatas made by the Spanish Club are displayed in the library, and every time a trophy is won for Lamar, whether in the field of athletics, speech, or any other, it is exhibited in the library, one of the most interesting rooms in the school.

R.O.T.C. OFFICERS' CLUB

The R. O. T. C. Officers' Club is an organization composed of the officers from the various R. O. T. C. companies and the staff members. The purpose of the club, Lamar's only purely military organization, is threefold: it promotes greater interest in military affairs, it constructively criticizes the corps as a whole, and it supervises the social affairs of the unit. In this manner the club renders the entire R. O. T. C. Battalion many valuable and useful services. The highlight of the social year was the annual R. O. T. C. Officers' Ball, which is held in co-operation with all the other R. O. T. C. units in the city, with officers from every school attending.

Officers of the R. O. T. C. Officers' Club for this year are as follows: President, Harry Thomas; Vice-president, Frank Westmoreland; Secretary, Joan Ryba; Treasurer, Shirley Nesmith.

Captain Carl H. Smith, United States Army, is the sponsor.

This year Kachina, the drama club of Lamar, boasts the largest membership in its history. Kachina is an organization which acts as a stepping stone for those drama students who aspire to belong to the National Thespian Society. Its members first take part in the work behind the scenes, such as lighting and make-up, and then take part in the actual production of the play on stage. Kachina is asked to help with the presentation of many school programs, notably the variety shows.

Hurt Garrett, Kathleen Kimbro, Adele Cross, Henry Arranging props for a theatrical production are Mary Dickson, Polly Benoit, and Sandy Settegast put in place Dannenbaum, Paul Wishnow, Rita Burda, and Bill Muhlhausen.

It has also sponsored a play, The Night of January Sixteenth, and a large-scale variety show, Talent Time in Texas, both of which were very creditably performed. The one-act play, Ile, was Lamar's entry in the city drama contest, which met Lamar's usual high standards in outstanding dramatic presentations. Officers of Kachina for this year are as follows: President, LoJuan Hosea; 1st Vice-President, Rita Burda; 2nd Vice-President, Norman Brady; Secretary Alyce Lou Smith; and Treasurer, Janet Jones. Mrs. Ruth Denney is the sponsor.

Mrs. Denney and Norman Brady check the lighting for a Variety Show.

Eddy Rayburn, Tubby McCutcheon, Jerry Cox, Glen Woods, Jack Bailey, Tina Mistrot and Richard Sykes practice a scene from Ile, the Interscholastic League play contest entry.

SPEAKER'S FORUM

Judy Robey, secretary; Don Stewart, president; Mr. Dougherty, sponsor; Ted Van Griethuysen, vice-president; and Betty Templeton, treasurer; display trophies they have won this year.

Lamar has always been outstanding in the field of speech and debate. Again this year, a fine record has been made by the members of the Speaker's Forum, which is the Lamar chapter of the National Forensic League. In order to become a member of the Forensic League, one must earn at least twenty points by active participation in speech tournaments. This is no problem at all for Lamar's speakers, for they attend, take part in, and, usually, win many speech tournaments throughout the year. The Forum was organized five years ago, under the guidance and sponsorship of Mr. Floyd Dougherty; its members will tell you that the brilliant record they have established is largely due to his expert coaching. This past year, a total of thirty-one first places have been won by Lamar speakers.

Lamar also sponsored its own invitational tournament this year. High schools from all over Houston, from Dallas, Waco, and even as far away as Shreveport and Freeport participated in the highly successful event. As for the tournaments in which the members of the Speaker's Forum took part, it ought to be mentioned first that they won the Adamson Tournament for the third consecutive time. Betty Templeton and Sydney Billingsley won in girls' debate; Ed Mainous and Barry Moss placed first in boys' debate; Sydney Billingsley placed second in girls' declamation; Don Stewart placed third in boys' declamation; these and other winners gave the Lamar team the trophy.

Preparing the negative side are: standing, C. B. Stephenson, Mac Childers, Barry Moss, Ruth Collins, and John Winslow; sitting, Rosetta McGregor and Jo Ann Collet.

SPEAKER'S FORUM

Roy Hofheinz, Perry Sue Hamilton, Erlene Hubly, Ed Mainous, Dorothy Dobbins, Linda Woolley, and Abbe Ledbetter admire the trophies won in previous tournaments.

A very creditable performance was given at the Baylor Tournament, also, with Lamar placing second. Judy Robey and Betty Templeton took first in girls' debate, winning a scholarship to Baylor; Dorothy Dobbins placed second in girls' extemporaneous speech; while Jean Youngblood won first in girls' poetry interpretations. In the Denton Tournament in December, Ted Van Griethuysen placed first in three different events, dramatic interpretation, after dinner speaking, and poetry interpretation; Don Stewart also placed first in boys' declamation; Graham Campbell won second in boys' declamation. Perhaps the longest list of victories was chalked up at the Trinity College tournament, at which nearly all of our entries won something. Erlene Hubly and Betty Templeton won first in girls' debate; Judy Robey and Dorothy Dobbins placed third in the same event; Don Stewart and Graham Campbell placed second in boys' debate; Ted Van Griethuysen again won three first places, in dramatic interpretation, lyric poetry, and poetry interpretation; Barry Moss placed first in boys' extemporaneous speech; Judy Robey placed first in Bible reading. It is obvious that Lamar has more than its share of fine speakers, who have brought many honors to themselves and the school. Officers of the Speakers' Forum for this year are as follows: President, Donald Stewart; Vice-president, Ted Van Griethuysen; Secretary, Sydney Billingsley; and Treasurer, Betty Templeton.

Graham Campbell, Celia Buchan, Burton McMurtry, Cleman-tine Dahme, Harry Thomas, and Rex Martin leave for the Waco tournament.

Building a case for the affirmative are Neal Blanton, Margaret Adams, Lorraine Hammerich, Jimmy Wyckoff, Marilyn Long, and Philip Martin.

RADIO GUILD

The morning devotionals and the afternoon announcements are an integral part of life at Lamar. The school day would not be started right without the Lord's Prayer and the birthday greetings, nor would it seem proper to dismiss sixth period without the familiar last-minute interruption. The members of the Radio Guild are responsible for everything that goes out over the public address system, and they do a very commendable job of broadcasting. Then too, in addition to their duties at school, Radio Guild members have their own thirty minute show, the "Star Spot Revue," over KUHF, combining the talents of everyone in the club. This provides a unique opportunity for gaining experience in the field of radio which will be valuable to them in later life, as well as being a great deal of fun. Very few schools are able to boast an organization which offers this chance for advancement in an ever-widening vocational field. Going one step further, this progressive club has also been responsible for the television appearances of three of its members. Affiliated with the National Radio Guild, the club is ably sponsored by Mrs. Ruth Denney. Officers of the Radio Guild for this year as follows: President, Joe Cadenhead; Vice-president, Jack Bailey; Secretary, John Griffin; and Treasurer, Richard Sykes.

Row II: Sharon Sommer, Vernon Lamb, Caroline Scrivner, Bill Muhlhausen, Glen Woods, Hurt Garrett, Barbara Bobbitt, Paul Wishnow, Jim Skipton, Holly Montgomery, Rosanna Fall.

NATIONAL THESPIAN

The National Thespian Society is an organization composed of the outstanding drama students of the school. Organized in 1929, the society requires a total of ten honor points to be earned before the student is eligible for membership. With this as his goal, he may participate in a stage presentation, help with work backstage, see plays put on outside school, or do anything connected with drama in order to earn the necessary points. Should he earn more than the required number of points, a member becomes a "Star Thespian," and a star is added to his certificate of membership. Star Thespians this year are Norman Brady, LoJuan Hosea, Rita Burda, Polly Benoit, and Kay Watson. A total of thirty points entitles a member to the gold bar award, a distinction not achieved so far at Lamar.

The Lamar chapter of the National Thespian Society was formed in 1946, by Mrs. Ula Hennes. From its inception, the members have been very helpful in presenting plays, and variety shows, and also in the organizing of the Kachina Club.

Officers of National Thespian for this year are as follows: President, LoJuan Hosea; 1st Vice-president, Rita Burda; 2nd Vice-president, Norman Brady; Secretary, Alyce Lou Smith; and Treasurer, Janet Jones. Mrs. Ruth Denney has taken over the sponsorship this year.

TEXAS JUNIOR ACADEMY OF SCIENCE

Studying the wing structure of an owl are Steve Williams; Mrs. Miner, sponsor; Katrina Thompson, secretary; Herbert Simons, treasurer; Jackie Hart, president; Barbara Dillman; David Dillman, vice-president; Mr. Strehle.

"Science for service, safety, and pleasure" is the motto of the Lamar Chapter of the Texas Junior Academy of Science, which is sponsored by Mrs. Edna W. Miner. Science club members enjoyed many activities in keeping with this motto during the year. Among the many field trips were excursions to Willow Water Creek, Memorial Park, bird sanctuaries, Baylor Medical School, Sheffield Steel, Bell Telephone Company, and the Coca Cola plant. Members also attended the annual convention of the Texas Junior Academy of Science, which was held this year at Austin. At the meeting, talks were made by Steve Williams, Katrina Thompson, Jackie Hart, and Willard McCracken. The papers of the latter two, "Restoration of Deformities and Mutations through Plastic Surgery," and "The Petrification of Wood," respectively, were especially commended by the teachers of the state universities who attended the convention. The Science club is one of Lamar's most interesting and instructive organizations. The Science Club is headed this year by Barry Moss, President; David Dillman, Vice-president; Jackie Hart, Secretary; Vernon Ellege, Treasurer; and Katrina Thompson, Parliamentarian-Historian.

Examining the model of a frog are Tommy Anderson, John Cramer, Willard McCracken, and David Lee.

Interested in specimens seen through the microscopes are Steve Williams, Elanor Coren, Jean Hampy, Allan Tackaberry, and Edward Derden.

CHEMISTRY CLUB

Dave McComb, Treasurer; Chick Almy, Vice-president; Rex Martin, President; Mr. Collier, Sponsor; Searcy Lou Miller, Secretary.

In the spring of last year, several chemistry students felt that there was a need for an organization in Lamar to further the interest and use of chemistry. Accordingly, they banded themselves together, and with this as their purpose, formed the Chemistry Club. In order to be a member, it was decided that one must be a junior or senior interested in chemistry, or else one must be recommended by a science teacher. Duly chartered and recognized as belonging to Lamar's family of clubs, this year the Chemistry Club launched its program of appreciation of chemistry and its uses, under Mr. Ivan Collier.

Officers of the Chemistry Club for this year are as follows: President, Rex Martin; Vice-president, Chick Almy; Secretary, Searcy Lou Miller; Treasurer, Dave McComb; and parliamentarian-historian, Norman Hall.

Jan Marshall, President; Miss Henderson, Sponsor; and Cathy Kirkland, Secretary, examine some outstanding paintings.

Everyone has noticed and remarked upon the attractive pictures and exhibits which appear from time to time around the school. They are the work of Wapika, Lamar's art club. This year there have been some very outstanding paintings hung in the cafeteria, as well as several attractive displays in the guidance room, in the cases on either side of the trophy case, and in the art room itself. Field trips to the Museum of Fine Arts, the Contemporary Art Museum, and to various stores featuring exhibits and objects of interest to art students were enjoyed by the members of Wapika, who took enough time off from their own art work to visit them. Lamar artists again this year exhibited their paintings in the Regional Scholastic Art Contest, sponsored by Foleys. Pictures which received the gold key were sent to the national judging, whose results are not announced until May. However, Lamar can expect to win again as they have previously. Officers of Wapika for this year include the following: President, Jan Marshall; Vice-President, Ann Hall; Secretary, Cathy Kirkland; and Treasurer, Dorothy Dakin. The sponsor is Miss Norma Henderson.

Sonya Warner, treasurer; Cindy Jones, secretary; Ted Van Griethuysen, president; and Carolyn Turner, vice-president, judge manuscripts of prospective members.

So you think all those trophies in the case were won by tossing a basketball through a hoop or crossing the goal line? Well, take another look. A goodly percentage of them were awarded to Lamar's talented creative writers, members of Sequoyha. The Terry Cup, the Linsey Cup, the Ready Writers' Cup, and the Texas Poet Laureate Award are among the many prizes they have won. Sequoyhans are regular contributors to such magazines as Scholastic, The Saturday Review of Literature, The Atlantic Monthly, and the National High School Poetry Anthology. Each year the club compiles the best works of its members into an anthology, which is presented to the library. A special collection of these anthologies, which dates from the club's beginning, is one of the library's prize possessions. In them are to be found works of former bright stars of Sequoyha, such as Rhodes Scholar Walter Clemons and Texas poet Laureate Don Barthelme. Sequoyha is under the capable sponsorship of Miss Buchanan. Officers of Sequoyha for this year are as follows: President, Ted Van Griethuysen; Vice-President, Carolyn Turner; Secretary, Cindy Jones; and Treasurer, Sonya Warner.

LA CINQUANTAINE

La Cinquantaine is Lamar's French Club. With its motto, "Advance," and its purpose, "to promote interest in France, the French people, and the French language," the club is one of the most active of all the non-social clubs in school. Every other Friday there is a meeting, at which films of France are shown or lectures by natives of the country or interested boosters of it are given. Money for the different activities is raised by the members in a unique manner. Every fall, just before the most important football game, they sell "mum" corsages with Lamar's colors. Proceeds are sent to needy French families.

CARTOONIST ASSOCIATION

A stranger, walking into the front hall before school and finding it filled with a crowd of people hysterical with laughter, might be a bit puzzled; but a Lamarite would know that the cause of merriment was a new exhibit of cartoons from the pens of the members of the Cartoonist Association. Just chartered this year, the club has already discovered a whole crop of talented cartoonists, and, under the sponsorship of Miss Henderson, has presented over twenty colorful, humorous displays. Who knows, perhaps Lamar will produce its own Al Capp or Ham Fisher!

Officers of the Cartoonist Association are as follows: President, Merrill Whitehead; Vice-president, Dick Wray; and Treasurer, Jerry Cox.

Painting a backdrop for Talent Time in Texas are Frank Heizer, Gill Crowell, and Kim Darling.

James Hodges, Dave Baer, and Bonner Herren proudly display their cartoons.

Y-TEEN

Emily Boyd, Treasurer; Jane Ryba, Corresponding Secretary; Joan Ryba, Recording Secretary; Claire Fontaine, Vice-President; Gayle Jenkins, President.

The Lamar chapter of Y-Teen is a part of an organization that is not only city-wide but world-wide as well. Sponsored by the Young Women's Christian Association, Y-Teen is interested in promoting a feeling of world-fellowship and understanding between all peoples, a goal toward which every member works by himself and with others. Y-Teens learn cooperation with the rest of the high schools in the city, and at Easter time participate in the Pageant presented in Hermann Park. Lamar's share of the program this year was publicity, a job which they handled with their usual skill and dispatch. In December the club presented a style show across the street at Bethany Christian Church, with all proceeds going to the World Fellowship Fund. As one might expect, the theme of the program was the international aspect of style in clothes. At Christmastime Y-Teens brightened up the library with a Christmas tree which they decorated with clever ornaments they had made themselves. After school closed for the holidays, the tree was donated to a needy family. Quite frequently Y-Teen holds a cookie sale, at which time Lamarites enjoy the delicious cookies and the club members take in the necessary money to send two representatives to Y-Teen Summer Camp. Y-Teen is headed this year by Gayle Jenkins, President; Claire Fontaine, Vice-President; Joan Ryba, Recording Secretary; Jane Ryba, Corresponding Secretary; Emily Boyd, Treasurer; Alice Ann Featherston, Inter-Club Council Representative; Irene Krachy, Hi-Y-Teen Representative, and Mrs. Brinton, Sponsor.

"Habla usted Espanol?" Anyone who understands is likely to be a member of the Los Habladores, Lamar's Spanish Club. Besides finding out more about the countries whose language the members are learning to speak, the club continued this year the annual donation of pinatas at Christmastime to the needy children of the Rusk Settlement. This custom was inaugurated by the club's beloved former sponsor, Miss McMaster. Officers of Los Habladores for this year are as follows: President, Ray Espinosa; Vice-President, Allie Kelley; Secretary, Cathy O'Donnell; and Treasurer, Lucy Maddox. Taking over the sponsorship of the club this year are Miss Julia Pleasants, Miss Nell Morris, and Miss Sarah Earle.

An organization can be truly said to be worthwhile if it brings favorable recognition and honor to the school that sponsors it. Such has certainly been the case with the three chapters of Hi-Y at Lamar, which work as a unit to encourage, maintain, and extend the high standards of Christian character and ideals throughout the school and community. Active participation in local and state-wide youth conventions has earned for Lamar's Hi-Y members the reputation of outstanding leadership within the Y.M.C.A., which is the parent organization. Officers of Hi-Y for this year are as follows: President, O.U. Robert; Vice-president, Tommy Tucker; Secretary, Davis Brown; and Treasurer, Ed Ezell. Hi-Y is sponsored by Mr. Kent.

"And right over here, Sophomores, is the cafeteria...and this is the 'reception' room, 325..." Just before the opening of school and at mid-term, Ladaka conducts a Sophomore Rally to help orientate the new students. Members also sell Lamar beanies to help promote school spirit, in keeping with the name of their club, for it is derived from the Indian word, "adaka," meaning "to serve," and "L," for Lamar.

Fall officers of Ladaka are: President, Wanda Willhoite; Vice-President, Shirley Fay Gunn; Secretary, Connie Cornelius; and Treasurer, Emmy Wolpert. Spring officers are as follows: President, Jackie Hart; Vice-President, Roberta McKenzie; Secretary, Jo Anne Pierce; and Treasurer, Ann Graybrook.

BELLES

"Ting-a-ling! Ting-a-ling! Wouldn't you like to buy a Belles' bell?" During football season everyone in the lunchroom hears bells ringing in his head—for the Belles Club, appropriately, sells miniature cowbells to aid and abet the throat hoarse from cheering. Belles also participate in many charitable and social activities, and, in the Spring, hold the annual "Friendship Festival," at which the friendliest boy and girl in Lamar are elected. Eagerly anticipated by the members are the Christmas luncheon at Ye Old College Inn honoring the graduating seniors and the Spring formal, where the most valuable member of the club is named. Each year Belles "adopt" a family of children at Faith home, which they entertain frequently with parties. It has never been determined which has more fun at these functions, the children or the Belles!

CHORALETTES

One of the most active of Lamar's choral organizations is Choralettes, a girls' musical body under the direction and sponsorship of Mr. Lee S. Keding. The club was founded by Mr. Keding in 1950, and has been singing regularly for various functions both in and outside of school ever since. Besides several very enjoyable assembly programs, Choralettes have sung for the Music Festival, the Rotary Club of Downtown Houston, the Dads' Club Programs, and for the students of Lanier and Pershing Junior High Schools. They have also entertained the Kiwanis Club at their luncheon at College Inn. One of the most outstanding activities during the year was a broadcast of the 100-voice-strong chorus over KUHF, for the program "University of Houston on the Air." In spite of its newness, the Choralettes Club is well known in the city for the sparkle and variety.

its arrangements, and for the professional polish which always attends its performances. Members of Choralettes will advise you that this is largely due to their talented sponsor, himself an institution in Lamar's musical organizations. In addition to its sensible purpose, Choralettes has some of the properties of a social club. This past year, members staged a Sadie Hawkins' Day dance, the "Go Get 'Em Gallop," which provided Lamarites, especially the male half, with much hilarious entertainment. The highlight of the social year was, however, the January formal dance. Officers of Choralettes for this year are as follows: President, Lou Hardy; Vice-President, Binnie Binford; Secretary, Jeanne Vermillion; Treasurer, Ann Smith; Social Chairman, Barbara Veyon; and Publicity Chairman, Judy Cox.

CHUMS

Step right up, Ladies and Gents.... See the Fire-eater, the Fat Lady, JoJo the Dog-face boy... The greatest show on earth... Spring brings to Lamar flowers, showers, and the Chums Country Carnival, all of which are eagerly awaited. For one enchanted evening the gym is transformed into a mirthful midway, and Lamarites gorge themselves with cotton-candy, ogle the strange freaks in the side-show, and try their luck at the wheel of fortune. Besides providing their fellow students with a lot of fun, Chums have given many other valuable gifts to the school this year. Especially notable is the lovely rose bed surrounding the flag pole. The Heritage Club books in the library are also presented by Chums. This year is a notable one in the history of the club, for it is the fifteenth anniversary of its founding.

HAIENONIS

Haienonis is Lamar's oldest established choral group. In the last few years it has grown so large that instead of the one period usually devoted to a musical organization, the club now has two periods. This necessitates that the group be divided into Senior Haienonis, and Junior-Sophomore Haienonis, each of which has its own officers and functions. However, when a program is presented, one could never tell that the chorus has any kind of split personality at all, so well do they blend! During the year the club entertained the student body in many enjoyable assemblies, notably the Christmas program, with its processional, choir robes, and candlelight. Haienonis also sang for many different service organizations outside of school, and made records for entertainment in various hospitals. Mr. Mapes is sponsor and director.

IRARI

"Two, four, six, eight! Who do we appreciate? . . ." Almost every day the lunch-room is enlivened by the boisterous Iraris with their merry, fun-poking chants, Iraris "have more fun than anybody," they say, and indeed, the club is famous for its outlandish publicity stunts and flamboyant pay dances. In the fall is held the annual Irari Court, an open house honoring the Princesses chosen by the members of Irari from the various girls' social clubs, and the Queen, who this year was Myrtle McPhail. Living up to their motto, "Imi Irari," an Indian expression meaning "Brothers always," Irari may be truly described as a "social" club, for in addition to the above-mentioned activities, the boys look forward to a mid-term stag banquet and a formal in the spring. This year Irari, oldest boys' club in Lamar, has a capable new sponsor in Mr. Millsap.

KIOWA

Any day at fifth period, those classes lucky enough to be near the music room are serenaded by Kiowa, Lamar's mixed choral group. Kiowa is a fairly recent addition to the music department, being formed in 1950 under the sponsorship of Mr. Bliss C. Mapes. This year, Kiowa followed up the tremendous success of last year's performance of the Mikado with an equally entertaining presentation of H. M. S. Pinafore, another Gilbert and Sullivan operetta. Lamarites embarked on the good ship Pinafore on January 11, and landed back in the Lamar auditorium after a musically engaging and truly hilarious voyage. Kiowa also added to the yuletide cheer around the reservation, combining with Haienonis to sing Christmas carols through the halls the day before vacation. Another ambitious project was undertaken later in the year—that of singing with the Houston Symphony on February 25th. This program brought much honor to Lamar, as well as being a credit to the musical organization in itself; any undertaking which accomplishes these two purposes is certainly worthwhile. All in all, Kiowa is fast becoming indispensable to Lamar.

These are the fall term officers of Kiowa: President, Lewis Ransoffer; Vice-president, Johnny Alban; Secretary, Janie Morris; Treasurer, Larry Green; Social Chairman, Gaye Harman; and Publicity Chairman, Raye Harman.

NIWAUNA

"You are my Valentine, my only Valentine . . . I'll always love you night and day . . . February 14th is a day enjoyed by each and every Lamarite, for the Niwauna club enlivens the proceedings by selling their famous "singing valentines," musical messages of love delivered by the members in chorus to a favored guy or gal. This is one of the many activities carried on by the club during its busy year. In the fall, Niwauna presented an entirely new innovation in club entertainment, the "Nifty Fifties," an old-time vaudeville show, which was highly praised by everyone. A good time was had by all at the party which the Niwaunas gave for the underprivileged children in the first-grade at Hawthorne school. In short, the Niwauna Club has written into its records another year of fun, charitable works, and service to Lamar.

PALAMAR

Please buy a slogan slip. . .It's only a dime!. . .Don't you want to be patriotic? . . .Breathes there a Lamarite who has not been assailed by a determined Palamar, intent on bolstering his school spirit with a slogan slip whether he wants one or not? Many a football stadium has been filled with fans who have decided to go to the game to get their dime's worth out of their slogan slips! Palamar has established another institution at Lamar—the famous Can Can of the Darktown Strutter's Ball, an annual autumn pay dance. This year's entertainment was well up to the lauded precedent. Another event which was thoroughly enjoyed by club members was the informal dinner party at Felix's just before Christmas. Among their many acts of charity, Palamar presented a Bible to Holly Hall, and a gift of food to the Industrial Home.

POW WOW

"After the May Fete, simply everybody goes to the Royalty Romp!" Almost as well-established a custom as the Spring Court Festival is the annual pay dance, the Royalty Romp, which is given by Pow Wow immediately after the May Fete. Here a cat (hep) may dance with a queen (his own, or Her Majesty), and everyone from cabbages to kings may be observed having the time of his life. This is a dance that has become a true part of Lamar's social life, indispensable to the May frivolities. Not content to rest on its laurels with a successful spring dance, Pow Wow also gave in the fall the "Homecoming Hop," after the Reagan game, at which Ann Synnott was crowned Homecoming Queen. Houston Country Club was the scene of the club's formal, held this year on May 3rd. Among its prideful accomplishments, Pow Wow lists an annual contribution to the library and United Fund.

POW WOW

Every year Pow Wow elects a club sweetheart, the Pow Wow Pin-up. This year's Pin-up is Carolyn Turner.

Officers of Pow Wow for this year are as follows: President, Tommy Hail; Vice-president, Bobby Logan; Secretary, Alan Huffman; Treasurer, Tommy Tomlinson; Sergeant-at-arms, Jere Eubanks; Social Chairman, Donald Stewart; Sports Chairman, J. B. Lee; Publicity Chairman, O. U. Robert; Junior Membership Charman, Dave Brown; and Sponsor, Mr. Herring. The seventeen new members of Pow Wow which were drawn at mid-term are as follows: Jon Bryan, Brady Cole, Frank Crenshaw, David Eby, Walter Embry, Wick Foxworth, Bobby Glash, Ronald Huffman, Ben Bob Keller, Colin McMillan, Russel Minor, Ben Orman, Bob Russel, Johnny Schwarz, Taylor Smith, Edward Stuart, and Bobby Wallace.

RAMAL

"Hey there, come on over and vote for your choice in the Ugly Man contest! . . ." The hilarious race for the sought-after title of The Ugliest Man in Lamar is only part of the autumn festivities presented by Ramal. The season's high-light is the annual intra-school track meet, the Ramal Relays, which the club sponsors. The meet serves a very useful purpose: to locate new talent for Lamar track teams. Also in the spring Ramal presents a cup to the junior girl most outstanding for scholastic achievement, personality, and leadership. Indeed, Ramal may be characterized as "The cup-bearing club," for at graduation they award as well the Ramal Trophy to the senior boy who is the most outstanding athlete of the year. Sponsored by Mr. Lee Keding, the motto of the club is, as may be expected, "Keep Smiling."

TAWASI

"Let's go down to the landing—the Showboat's acomin'!" Every spring Tawasi's original fun ship docks in the Lamar gym to bring a lot of enjoyment in the annual Showboat Shuffle. The Tawasis are well-known for their ability to put on a good pay dance, as this nautical extravaganza and the fall Icicle Escapade can attest. Perhaps the reason is that the very name, "Tawasi," means "friendship"—always an outstanding factor is anything the club does. During the year, many charitable projects are also carried on: food and clothing donations are given at Christmas and Easter to needy families; also, the very useful and attractive stone benches scattered about the school grounds are gifts of Tawasi. Besides these activities, the club awards annually a lovely trophy, the Tawasi Cup, to the most outstanding boy of the junior class.

Row I: Jean Eden, Fern Fagan, Alice Ann Featherston, Mimi Ford, Charline Forester, Willa Freeman, Lexine Furley.

R.O.T.C.

The Reserve Officers Training Corps strives to develop in the individual a sense of his responsibility as a citizen, a consciousness of his patriotic duties, and an interest in military science and discipline. The Lamar Battalion of the R. O. T. C. not only maintains these ideals, but is an integral part of school life. Lamar is well represented by its military unit at such functions as the Armistice Day Parade last November, when the battalion was judged second in the city.

The R. O. T. C. Band serves as the brigade band for the entire Houston unit, for Lamar alone has an organization such as this. Very neat and trim in their white leggings, gloves and helmets are the members of the drill platoon, those cadets especially skilled in manual arms and drill, who practice long hours after school to achieve the smartness and dexterity they evidence in their performances. In this day and time, military training is of great value to a boy; the knowledge he acquires in the R. O. T. C. will help him to become a better citizen, and prepare him for the eventuality of service in the armed forces.

T. C. BATTALION

R. O. T. C.

There are many different facets of military science, and a cadet in the R. O. T. C. is given a general knowledge of the various fields. Basic leadership is taught, and even stressed, for in many cases the R. O. T. C. cadet of today is the commanding officer of tomorrow. Much emphasis is laid upon citizenship and its responsibilities. Valuable training in weapons and their use is offered, and the cadet gains an understanding of the parts and the manipulation of his equipment. Courses in military tactics are presented to the budding officer; nor is the factor of physical development overlooked. It must not be thought that the battalion has no social life, however, for this would be far from true. In January the Officers' Ball was held, with the officers from every R. O. T. C. unit in the city attending; in April cadets enjoyed the annual Corps Formal. Combining work with play, the Lamar Battalion is one of the finest in the city. Its leaders are Captain Smith, Sergeant Gossard, and Sergeant Nesmith.

Sergeant Gossard explains the action of the various parts of a rifle to an attentive class.

STUDENT LIFE

INDIAN INDIVIDUALITIES . . .

Beaux with chapeaux—typical (?) headgear around the campus, displayed by proud owners Gordo Wilde, Bill Cook, Paul Hamilton, Wendell Hamrick, Dave Fennekohl, and Murray Finer.

Oh, my achin' axle! Jack Edwards, Bill Hill, Warner Merritt, Bill Shirley, David Sellars, Don Weiting, Sam Emison, and Bobby Clark prove once again that Crosley can TAKE IT!

Shutterbug—our trusty photographer, Lee Coleman, surrounded by his handiwork.

A real institution in the school—the famous Palamar CanCan, composed this year of "Bubbles" Binford, "Terrible Ted" Moody, "Magnetic" Mayo, "Swivel-hips" Hardy, "Cuddles" McKelvy, "Bomb-shell" Boyd, "Wiggles" Ryba(?), "Come-hither" Clements, and "Irresistible" Elkins.

This here's Texas, podner, and there's something western afoot! The clomping heard in the halls between periods isn't caused by wild buffalo—it's just cowboy boots like these, which are the accepted male footwear.

The lock specialist—how could Lamar get along without the services of Mr. Clay, who performs endless tasks, like breaking a lock for Kathleen Kimbro, as Mallory Cutrer and Bebe Moody sympathize.

Elizabeth Francisco and her fire-engine Ford, average mode d' transport around Lamar, which has sometimes been called "Cadillac Land". Oh yeah?

Waist not, want not—it's a cinch to be in style with a hand-tooled leather belt, especially if it has your name on it.

The grad fad—the kind of apparel dearest to the heart of the senior is modeled by Edith More, Janet Jones, Stuart Wallace, and Ed Duggan.

Presentation of the Ramal and Tawasi cups to Melia Buchan and Kirby Attwell is made by last year's winners, Carolyn Turner and Abbe Ledbetter.

No use, fellers, it just won't open—Sophomores Carmen Montalbo, David Husman, Mike Kemp, Martha Brizzolara and Al Franklin learn about the middle door the hard way.

THE REDSKIN ROUTINE

Beat Baytown!!! Patriotism runs high as the Redskins decorate the school right down to the doorknobs. Ann Synnott, F. G. Seeberger, Nancy Schmidt, and others in Mrs. Sandel's homeroom show the winning display in the school spirit contest.

Pinatas come in many different sizes and shapes, don't they? Spanish Club members prepare to take these to Rusk Settlement to wish the children a "Merry Christmas!"

They match, natch! No, it's not done with mirrors—it's just twins, Joan and Jane Ryba, Carol and Connie Roberts, and Nancy and Fairfax Crowe.

Were you wondering how the division pages got that way? Helen and Nancy introduced Frenchie the Chef, an indispensable part of the 1952 Orenda.

Happy Birthday dear Orenda staff! The hard-working staff members take time out to celebrate a community party for all those who have a birthday during the school year.

"Which do You think is the best, view 'A' or View 'B'?" Elizabeth Francisco tries to decide as Bob Sampson, Hal Sellers, Searcy Lou Miller, and Dave Brown wait to order their senior class picture.

Y-Teens spruce up the library with a Christmas tree decorated with ornaments of their own making.

We've got a hunch that Billy Cook, Burton McMurtry, Ronnie Tynes, and friends enjoy the crunch as they munch their lunch.

T-E-A-M! Redskins rock the rafters at the pre-game pep rally as they make ready to add Reagan's scalp to their growing collection.

Sweets to the sweet—Niwaunas turn the tables on their president, Bebe Godley, and send her a singing valentine.

One of the most unusual Book Week displays, figures from Chaucer's Canterbury Tales, are shown by St. Clare Cooke, Philippe Jaccard, Robert Moody, and Cathy Kirkland.

A Memorable occasion—June Lakenmacher signs the Arrowhead book as the other new members look on at the installation banquet at College Inn.

Drusilla Carothers, Kay Butler, Pat Morris, Marion Martin, and Bobby Jean Ray proudly display the pinatas they made for the underprivileged children.

Can it be that they're hungry for knowledge? Lamar girls stuff themselves with food and history in the crowded lunchroom.

Nominees for the D. A. R. Award—Margie Laughlin, Helen Riddick, Nancy Campbell, Emily Boyd, Carolyn Turner, the winner, and Lou Hardy.

Every afternoon at 3:01 this is what the waitress sees as she looks across the counter at the River Oaks Drug Store—a sea of Lamar faces. Intelligent, what?

THE REDSKINS ROMP

Tommy Hail announces that Ann Synnott has been elected Queen of Pow Wow's Homecoming Hop.

At the Ramal formal—looks like Murray Finer, Carolyn Turner, Abbe Ledbetter, Helen Riddick, Warner Merritt, and Sheryl McKelvy are enjoying themselves—or it is the River Oaks food?

Flowers to a favorite—Miss Taylor comes back for a visit and receives a corsage. We're glad to see you, ma'm!

Ahoy there, Peggy Wau, Shirley Fay, members of the smile after P

Sleek Sheiks—looking chic in the latest style turbans are Abbe Ledbetter, Joe Goerner, and Dave Fennekohl, who are energetically advertising their pay dance with fellow Ramals.

Phooey! No, we're not running a kindergarten (despite frequent rumors to the contrary), it's just Deedee Meck at a kid party. By the way, that's the monkey on the left.

Owen Irish, Mary Corl, Jack Edwards, and Billy Cook have a hilarious (?) barn dance.

Tea for Two (Hundred) is the order of the day for senior girls at Saturday graduation parties. Here Nancy Campbell pours for Mary Corl, Jeanne Wiedeman, Helen Koehler, Joan Smith, and Bebe Godley.

FEATHERS IN THE WAR BONNET

For a great team, the big trophy Julio Laguarda receives the 1951 City Championship football trophy, given by Raymond Pearson, as Eddy Rayburn looks impressed with its size.

Mob scene—3:01 finds the inmates, er, the students, that is, of Lamar rapidly fleeing their beloved campus.

A natural bent toward modern dance is displayed by the members of the Modern Dance Club. This movement might be called "tall grass in a high wind!"

Come to Papa! Phillip Kidd is awarded the city basketball trophy for last year, in behalf of the well-remembered team of which he was an important member.

Please do not feed the monkeys—or, My, don't Sheryl, Patricia, Ann, Betty Claire, and the rest of the bunch at the basketball game have pretty tonsils?

Proving that Lamar cheerleaders can bounce atop a bus or anywhere else, Gus, Larry, and Ronnie give the football team a rousing send off.

AFTER THOUGHT . . . Because of an early deadline, the Orenda Staff is unable to picture for you some of Lamar's important spring events. Here is a summary of some of the things which have happened since the photographer put away his camera and the printer took away the dummy.

In the spring sports, this year proved to be a very successful one for Lamar, and the students are very proud of the fine showing our boys made.

In the entertainment department we remember that on March 21, in the auditorium, Mrs. Ruth Denny presented the "Talent Time in Texas" show, and Carla Stone was chosen "Miss Lamar." This marvelous show, having as its theme the events in Texas under six flags, was one of the highlights of our stage productions this year. For their outstanding performances in Eugene O'Neill's play, Ile, entered in the city one-act play contest, we should like to commend Jack Bailey, Tina Mistrot, Richard Sykes, Rebby Gregg, Ben Bob Keller, Jerry Cox, and all the members of the cast.

On the aesthetic side of our recollections we remember the May Fete on May 9, in which we saw lovely girls in their beautiful gowns. The high senior duchess and maids together with the other duchesses are pictured on pages 110 and 111. The other maids of the royal court—low seniors: Neal Roberts, Marilyn Minns, Ronnie Lane, and Celia Wainwright; high juniors: Patricia Pennington, Rosetta McGregor, Julie Johnson, and Cathy O'Donnell; low juniors: Helen Lehmann, Pat Skaggs, Linda Foster, and Celia Posey; high sophomores: Drusilla Carothers, Janice Peabody, Kathleen Kimbro, and Diana Lowe; and low sophomores: Carolyn Eddleman, Mary Sue Goodere, Carla Stone, and Patsy Spratling. Not to overlook the boys, we should like to recognize our "most handsome" boys—Jack Verheyden, who was also May Fete king, Ronnie Tynes, Ray Rawson, Dick Bergstrom, Tom Burke, and Angelo Vasos.

Without the help of many, many people, bringing you this Orenda would have been an impossibility. Our sincere thanks go to: our student photographers—Bob Maxwell, Lee Coleman, and C. A. Van Wart; our professional photographers—Roulande Studios, Provine Studios, Raeburn's Studios, Fred Winchell, and the Glass Company; Mr. Glen Stanbaugh for the pictures of our buildings; Emery Griffin for photographing our division sheets; Nancie Sweeton for her art work; Foley Brothers for helping with the division sheets; the student council members; Mrs. Ruth Leavell, Mrs. Edith Ferrell, Mrs. Lorena Kobs, and Mrs. Alice Harrell for their never ending cooperation; the Kingscraft Cover Company; the Baker Colorplate Company; and the Rein Printing Company.

In closing we should like to express our sincere appreciation to Miss Drew Black Staggs and Miss Helen Weinberg for their valuable help and guidance in bringing you the 1952 Orenda.

Helen Riddick
